BENJAMIN GODFREY

Monticello College, founded in 1835 as Monticello Female Seminary, is one of the oldest institutions for the higher education of women in the United States. It was founded by Captain Benjamin Godfrey, a retired sea captain, born in Chatham, Massachusetts in 1794.

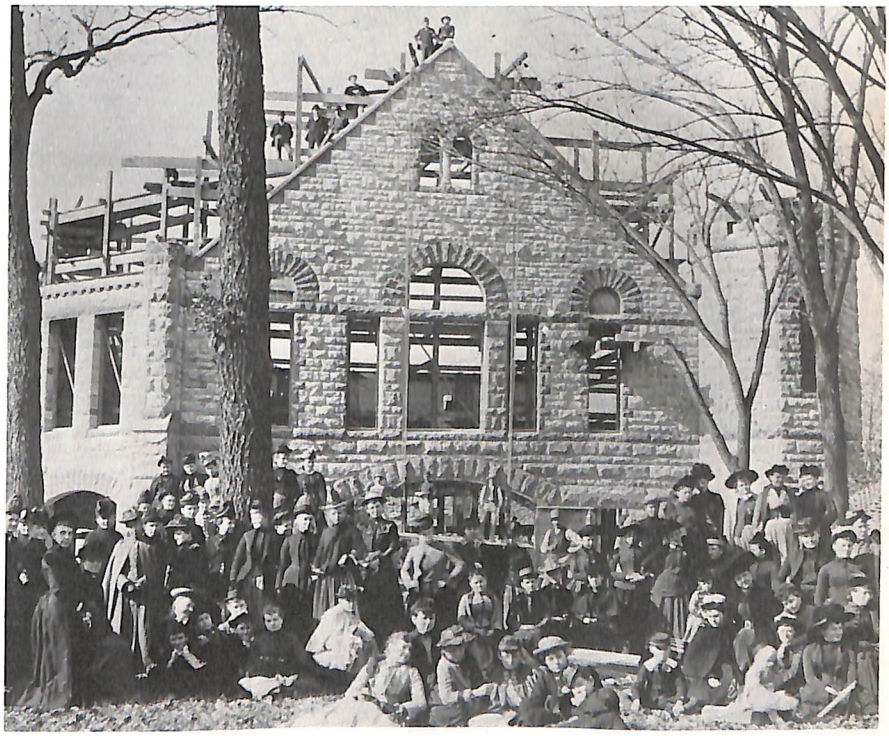
Godfrey had eight daughters for whom he wished the kind of education which would make them better wives and mothers. His belief was that "if you educate a man you educate an individual; if you educate a woman you educate a family." With the help of Reverend Theron Baldwin, Godfrey's dream became a reality and Monticello opened for classes on April 11, 1838.

Up from the smoldering ashes
From the red-gold flames
In the spiraling smoke
Curled the beginning of a dream . . .

After the fire of 1888.

In November, 1888, fire destroyed all of Monticello save a pile of ruins. Her campus was bare, all record of her existence was destroyed. For a brief moment only did Harriet Newell Haskell, Principal of Monticello, give way to grief. Then — standing in the midst of a silent group — she said, "It will be rebuilt. Our friends are legion."

Due to her determined courage and inspiring leadership, just one year later the new Monticello was dedicated.



A new Monticello . . .
A Monticello which would grow,
But never quite prosper . . .
The fragile embryo of a new idea in women's education.

Monticello would be home
and family
To thousands of young women,
Who over the past decades
Have helped to mold
the future of America and Americans.

Several generations have trod
the weathered halls,
Questioned and learned,
And if fortunate, found themselves.
They have all been
"Monti Girls" –
Sharing a bond which goes much further than a diploma.

Whether they wore uniforms or
"Farmer Johns,"
Bobby soxes or mini-skirts
Although seperated by years and many changes
They belong to Monticello, and she belongs to them.

The cabin,
the woods,
the chapel,
the fountain,
and the classrooms.

And the Seven Ideals –
Some came with them,
But many more took them as their own before they left:
Dignity, Service, Loyalty, Beauty,
Wisdom, Democracy, and Friendship.
Monticello throughout her existence
Has given freely of herself.
And those who are Monticello:
Student, Alumnae, Faculty, and Staff –
Have also given of themselves
Their tears, their hopes and dreams
And very much of themselves to each other.

TELEPHONE

How many class days have passed?
How many processions of Blackrobed faculty and staff
And white robed seniors have marched solemnly
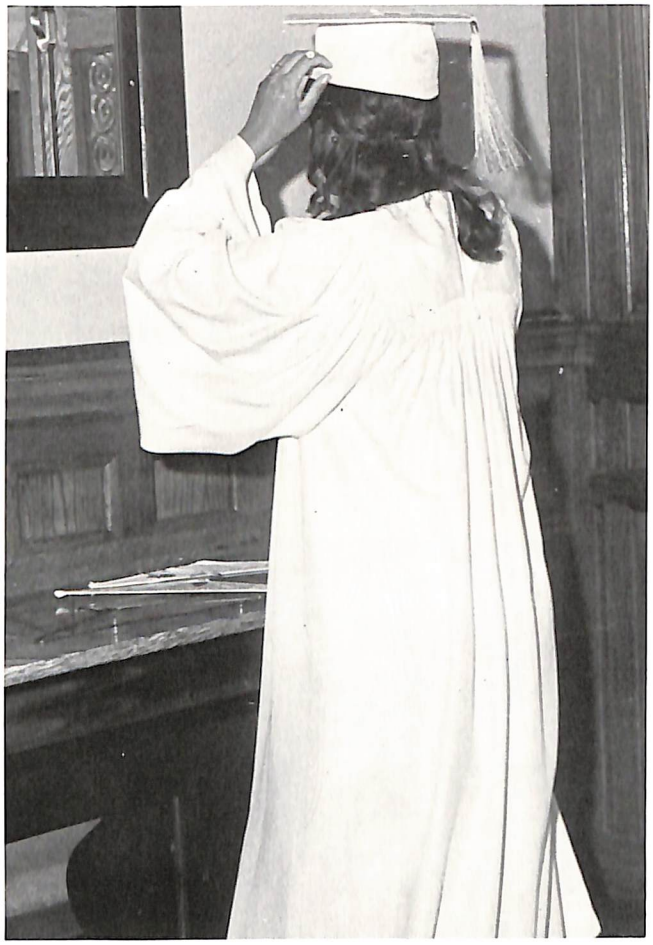
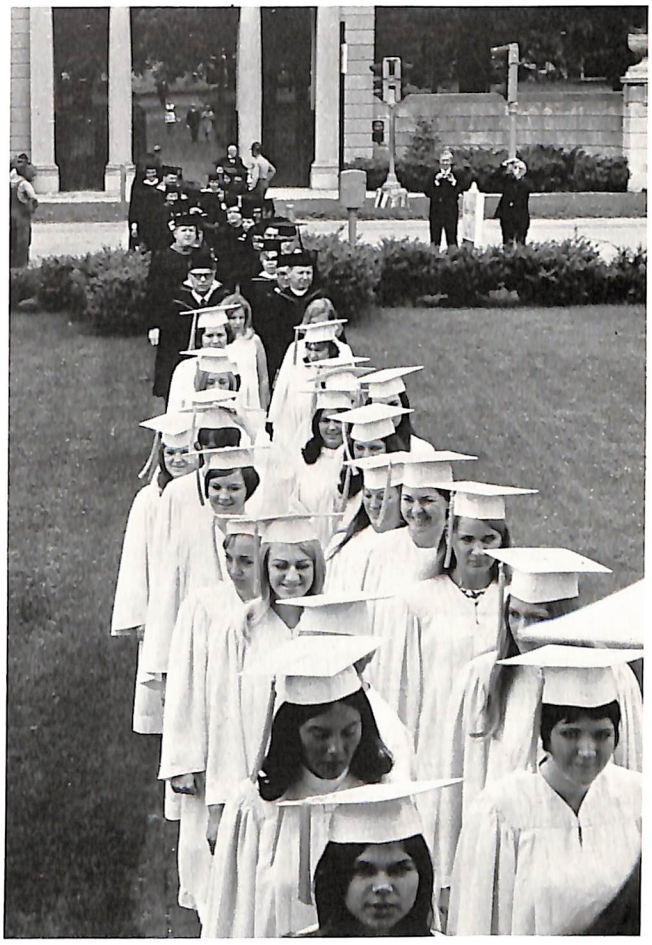
As the bell tolled to graduation exercises.





And this Spring, as the bell tolls
with somber dignity,
It tolls for Monticello . . .
Monticello, too, graduates this May with the class of 1971.
If Monticello wears black, let it be a cap and gown,
Rather than the crepe of mourning.

Monticello has given too much to die –
She lives on in the hearts of those
She has so faithfully served and who have served her.
Monticello is more than stone
and mortar;
She is hearts and minds –
Vibrant, keen, and very much alive

And this, the real Monticello has not
And cannot be purchased or sold.

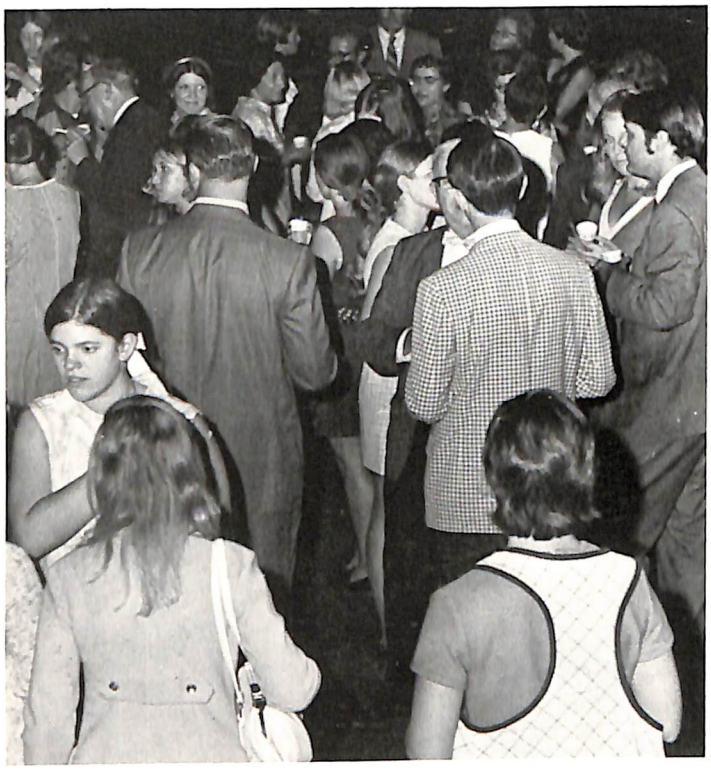
God bless your spirit, Monticello;
May it dwell in each of us.

ACTIVITIES

Opening Convocation

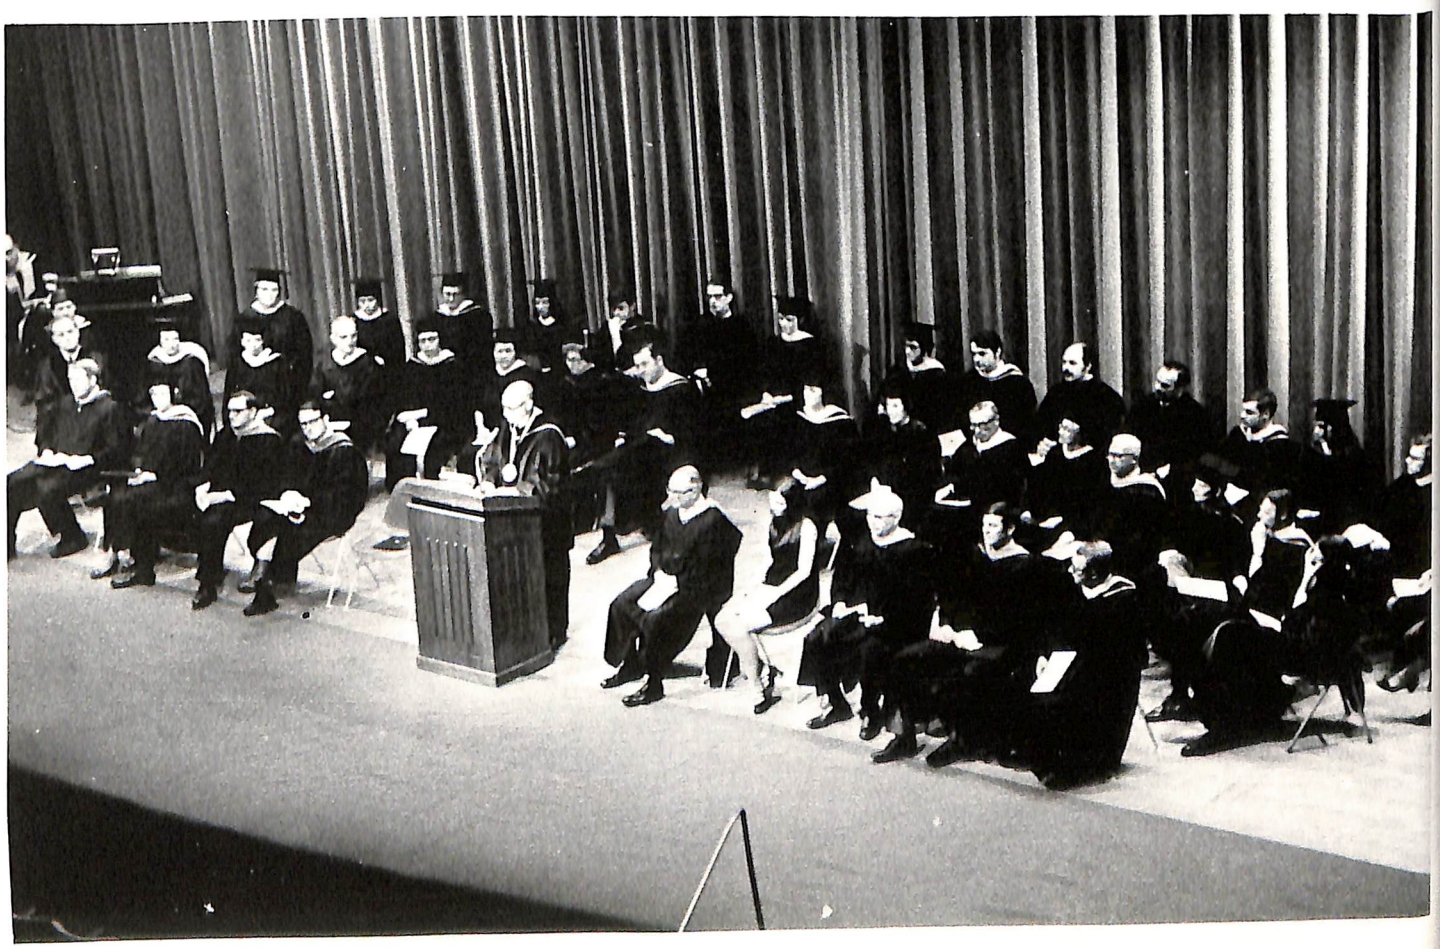


President's Reception

Traditionally the Monticello scholastic year is opened by the President of the College at the Opening Convocation. This ceremony marks the end of orientation, the recognition of the student body as a whole, and the welcoming of all by the entire faculty in academic regalia.

Following this year's Convocation, President and Mrs. Myers held an informal reception at The Evergreens, inviting the students to tour the President's home, and chat with the faculty over punch and cookies, on the torch-lit lawn.

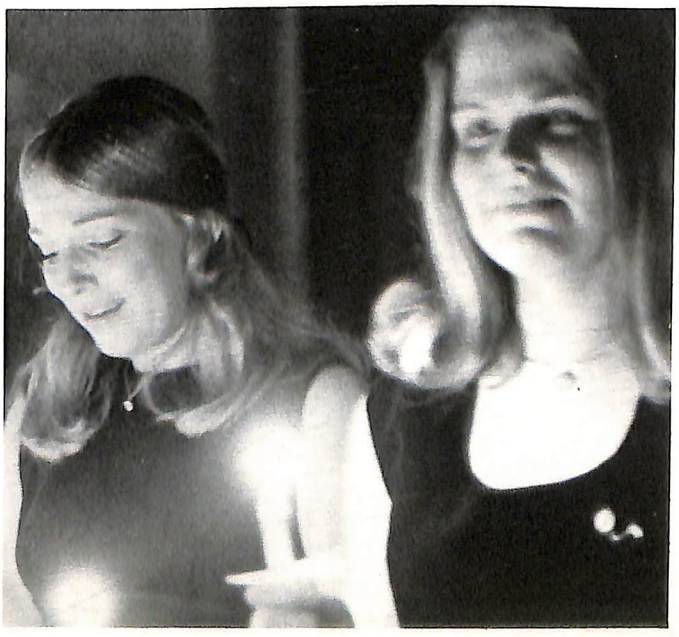
President Myers addresses student body.



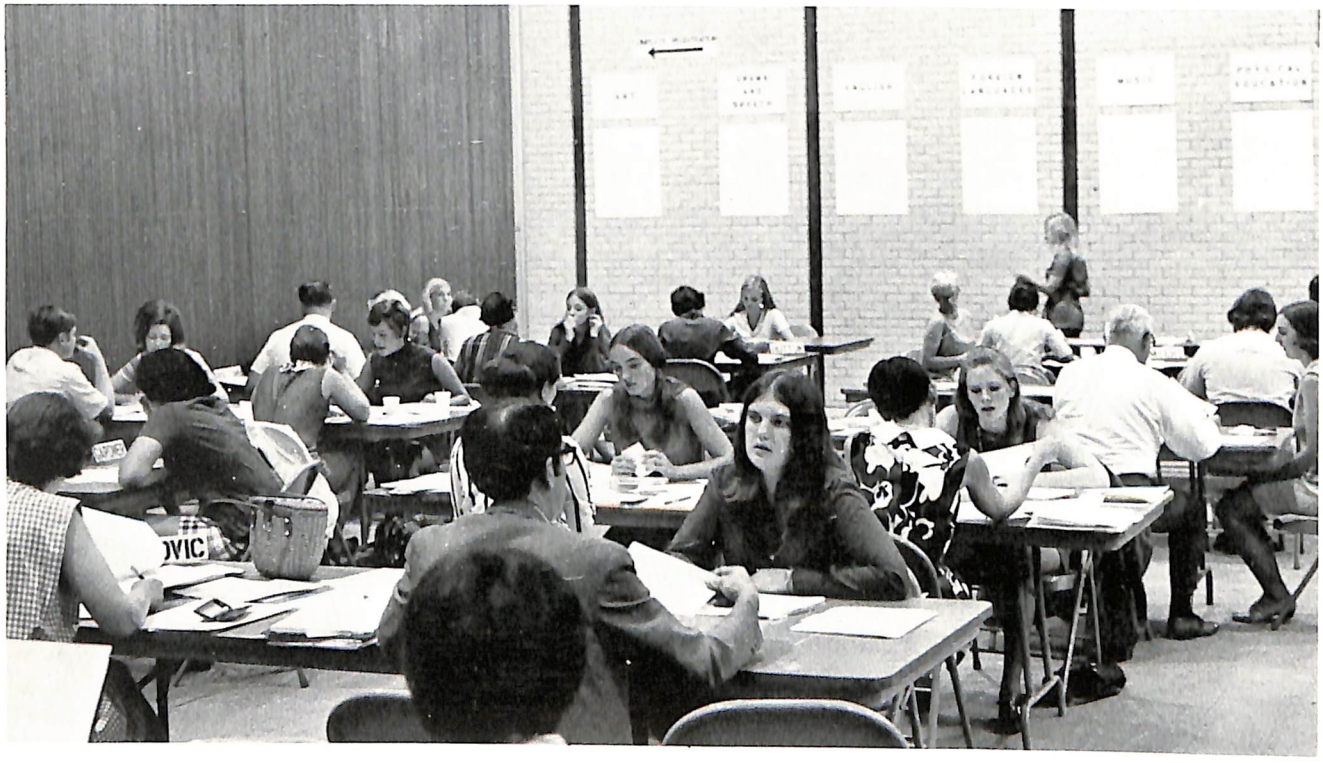
Recognition

The BLACK AND GOLD DINNER which preceeded Recognition had its origin almost a generation ago to combat the girls' homesickness. During the first weeks of school, the dinners were fancy occasions and helped build enthusiasm and promote unity among the students. The name of the dinner, Black and Gold, came from Monticello's colors — black as the ashes of mourning for the ruins after the fire, and gold (originally yellow) symbolizing growth and faith in Monticello.

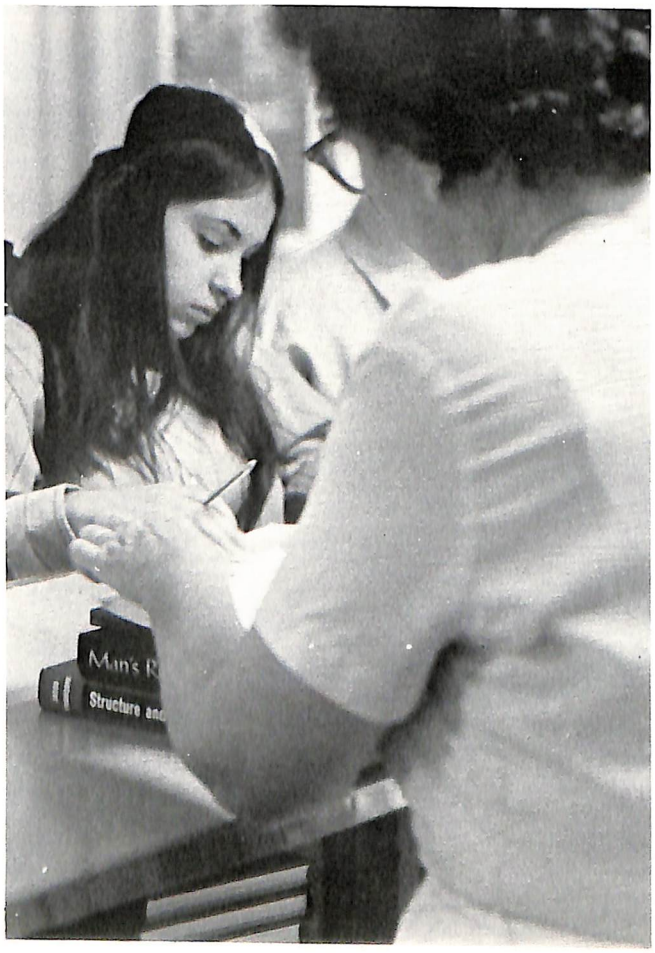
The RECOGNITION SERVICE originated from the "calling out ceremony." At this time, when women's education was new and there were no placement exams, the students had a personal interview at tea and their progress in school was announced. Over the years, and through better educational developments, the initial reason for calling out was lost. This ceremony was replaced by one formal recognition service held the day following the George Washington Banquet. As time passed, Recognition Service has been changed to early fall.



Orientation



Registration



Faculty-Student Picnic

Orientation first began more as a sorority-type initiation. Eleven senior girls, known as the Heavenly Eleven, were chosen to plan the activities. During the orientation period you could find a Freshman rolling an egg down the hall with her nose, or scrubbing Senior Stairs with a toothbrush. Orientation lasted from early fall until Recognition Service in the spring.

Several years ago the Orientation program was changed to the type of program now held. "Let's get together" rang through the halls this fall as the Seniors busily prepared for the new Freshman students. Each Freshman on her arrival was greeted by her Big Sister and was presented with a black and gold beanie. Activities included a faculty-student picnic supper, campus tours, a shopping trip, a Freshman-Senior sing and the All States Dinner. The week concluded with the Opening Convocation and a faculty reception at The Evergreens.

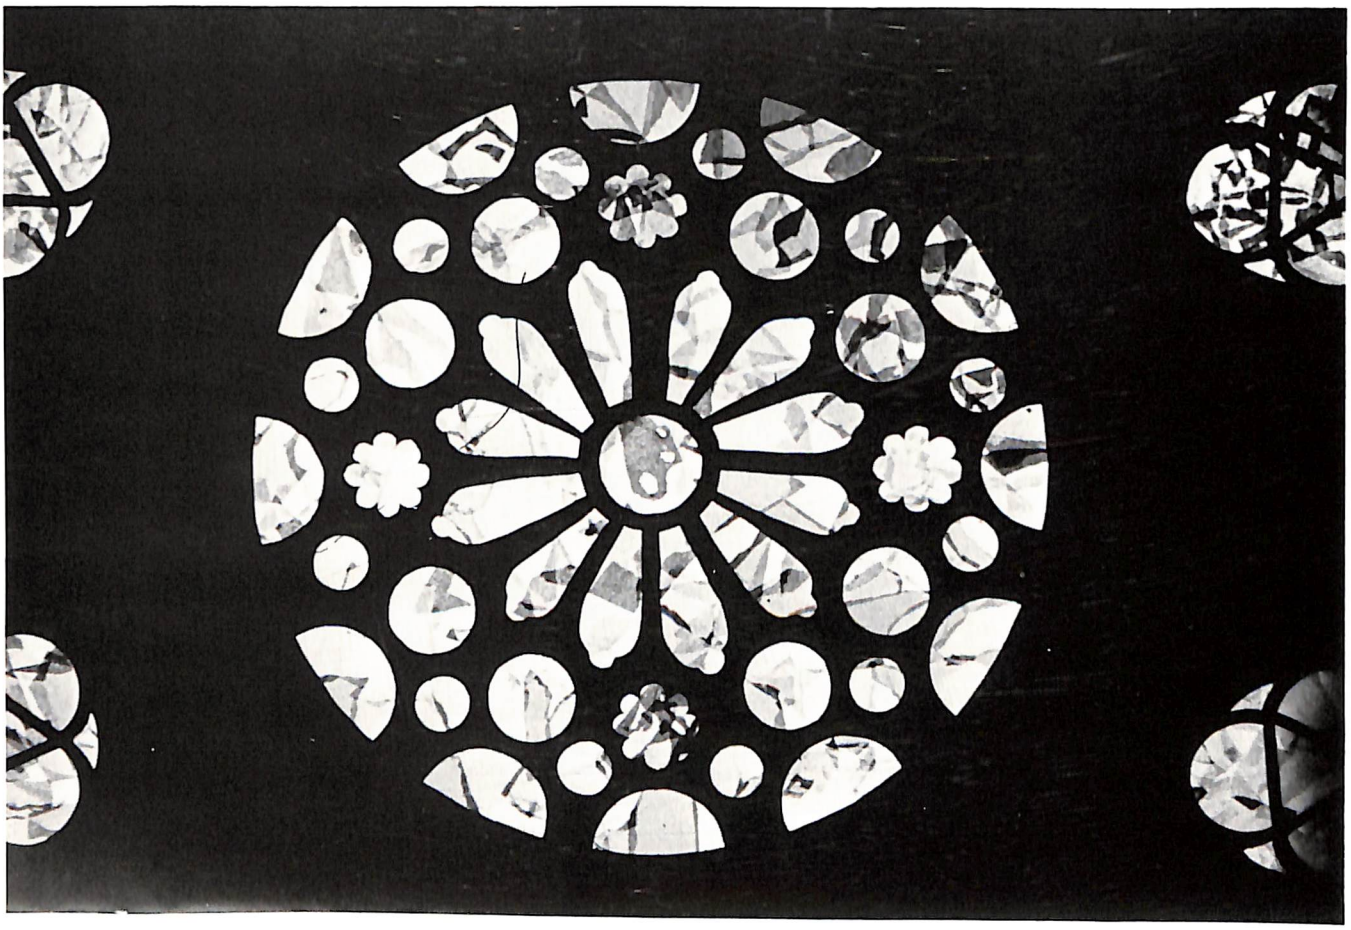
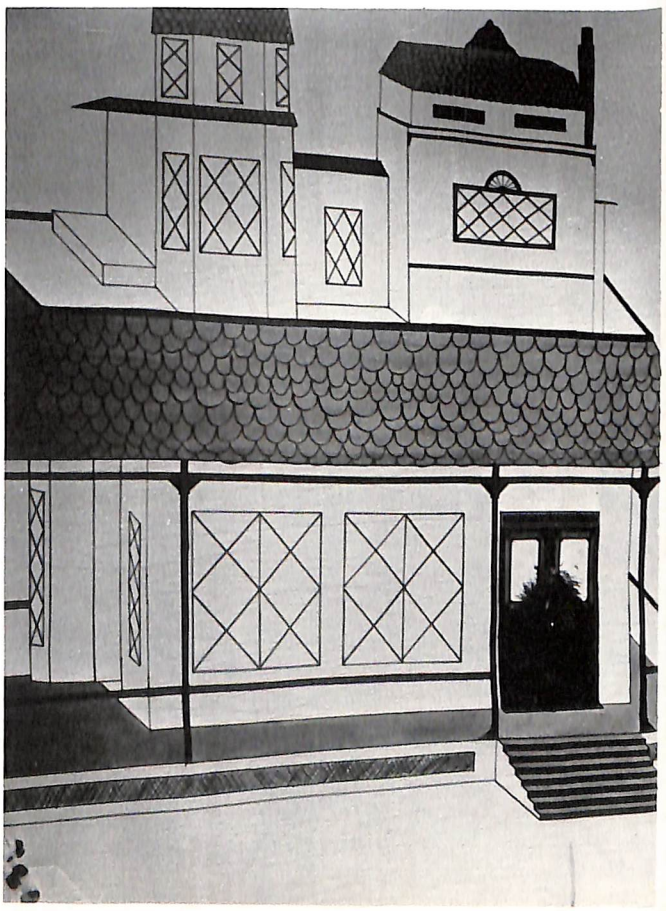
Doll Dinner





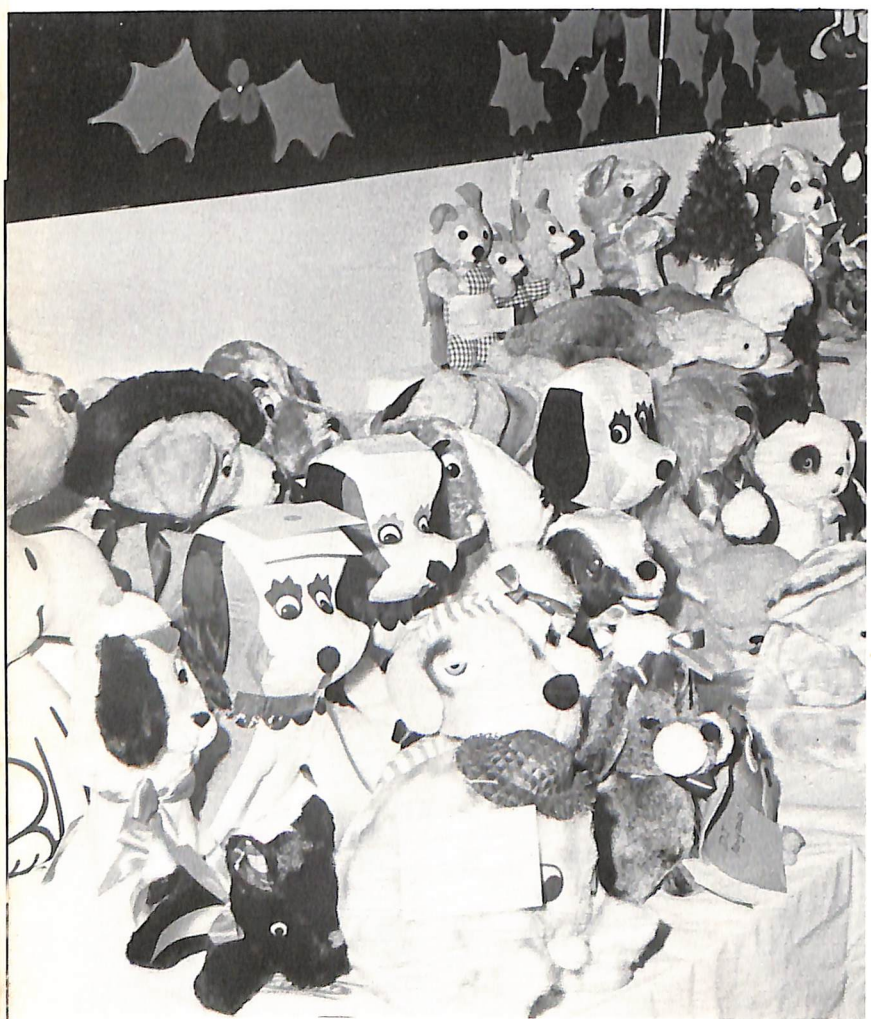
DOLL DINNER

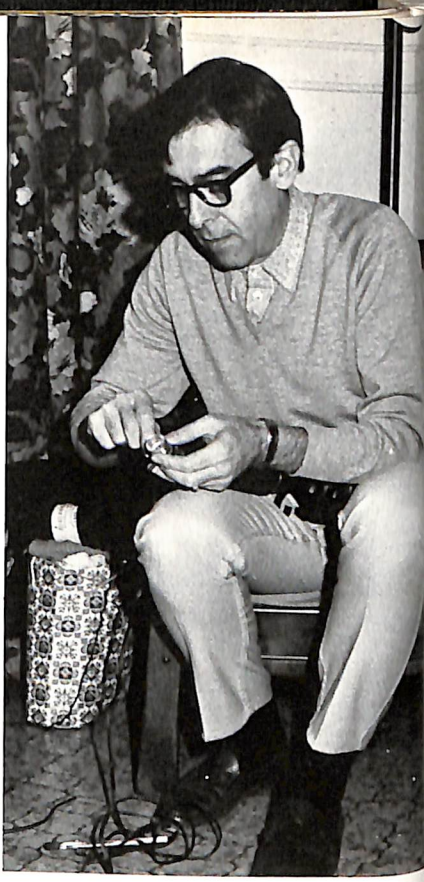
The Doll Dinner is a traditional Monticello Christmas event which had its beginning 73 years ago.

This event began under the direction of Miss Harriet Haskell in December 1897. In response to her interest expressed for a Chicago settlement program near the stockyards, Monticello students collected funds from their allowances to provide a Monticello graduate as a resident of the settlement. At the Christmas season the students purchased and dressed dolls which they sent to the children of the Chicago area settlement.

To express her appreciation to the girls, Miss Haskell surprised them with a special luncheon — the "Doll Luncheon." From this has come the Doll Dinner, which has now increased its program and activities. At present, dolls donated by students and alumnae are presented to several Alton area organizations, to be distributed to needy children as Christmas gifts.

This year the dinner had as its theme "A Monticello Christmas to Remember," in honor of that first Doll Luncheon. The dinner was dedicated to the Spirit of Monticello and all those who are and have been part of her tradition.





Slave Day

On January 16, Monticello students had the chance to "own" members of the faculty. This event came about through the Mal Faculty Slave Day which the choir sponsored, in order to raise money for their tour in the spring.

Some tasks faculty members were "ordered" to do were cleaning, washing, repair jobs, boot polishing, showing their skills in th culinary department, and running errands for their owners-for-the-day.

Besides everyone having a good time, an informal basis for communication between faculty and students was achieved.

1971 George Washington Ball

Freshman Class President, LaDonna Beamon, greets S
zanne Salic and her date.

This year the George Washington Ball marked its seventy-second anniversary. This annual event was held February 20 at the Bel Air East Hotel in St. Louis, with the Freshman Class presenting "Never Say Goodbye, Say Until Later."

The GWB, as it is known by students and alumni, evolved from a reception held in February, 1899, by Harriet Haskell, principal of what was then Monticello Female Seminary, in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of Washington's death.

The first celebration was held in the library. Miss Haskell entered the room dressed as George Washington, with the President of the Senior Class dressed as Martha. The event was a success, and consequently became a tradition.

The GWB has been celebrated many ways since 1899. In 1907, the event took the form of a banquet where the freshman class chose their officers, colors, hymn, flower and motto. Ten years later the program again was slightly changed, with all seniors dressing as George and Martha for the dinner. The classes presented toasts, sang songs, and threw slams at each other in fun. In the 1940's the dancing of the minuet was added, performed by members of the freshman class preceding the banquet and formal ball.

Even though the celebration has varied over the years and has become very social, the same traditional spirit has prevailed since the time of Harriet Haskell, seventy two years ago.

HONORS

Seven Ideals

DIGNITY. This is a quality of reserve which comes with emotional, intellectual, and social maturity. Dignity is always reflected in the recognition of the fitness of things and in the poise and self-confidence with which one places one's self above that which might be considered unseemly.

BEAUTY. Within each girl is the power to recognize and appreciate the beauty of everyday experiences. Life is filled with beauty if one is sensitive to it and eager to find it . . . if one's eyes are trained to see, one's ears to hear, one's heart to understand, and one's mind to remember.

LOYALTY. One of the most important of the Monticello ideals is a deep-seated loyalty to the College, one's friends, one's family, and one's own beliefs. This deep emotion will grow through understanding, respect and love.

WISDOM. As the Monticello girl grows in academic stature, she seeks to increase her ability to apply her knowledge usefully, for wisdom is the union of knowledge and understanding.

SERVICE. Each one of us has a distinctive personality and unique talents. The Monticello girl considers it not only a privilege but a responsibility to share her gifts with all, thereby helping herself and others to develop to the fullest measure.

DEMOCRACY. The truly democratic person interests herself in the activities of others. She seeks to understand and respect the ideals and beliefs of her associates, while maintaining her own independence of thought and action.

FRIENDSHIP. Many of your most cherished and lasting friendships will be made while you are at Monticello. Your college days will afford rich opportunities for making a wide circle of friends. In true friendship there is dignity, beauty, loyalty, service, and never-failing consideration.

I never came to you my friend, and went away without some new enrichment of the heart,
more faith and less of doubt,
more courage for the days ahead,
and often in great need coming to you, I went away comforted, indeed.

How can I find the shining words, the glowing phrase that tells all that your love has meant to me —
all that your friendship spells?
There is no word, no phrase, for you on whom I so depend.
All I can say to you is this:
"God bless you, precious friend."

Monticello Student Council —
— Yesterday and Today

If they could only see us now . . . what would they say! In 1936 Monticello College began a student government. It consisted of six members — three students from each class — elected by the student body. Today there are six members of each class elected to Student Council.

Though many changes in College rules have been made through Student Council action, the purpose of the organization has never changed: 1) to give "official expression of the student body, 2) to propose new legislation and amendments when needed, and 3) to encourage enthusiasm and responsibility for abiding by the rules of Monticello.

Monticello College has a well-rounded social program because of students elected from the student body. This organization, comprised of thirteen girls, organizes mixers, social films, and fraternity parties with nearby colleges. In the past the Social Cabinet has also sponsored several academic lectures.

Ending every academic year, students elect a Social Cabinet Chairman. This year's chairman is Sue Jaronik, and Kathleen Collins is recording secretary. Together with the other enthusiastic members, these girls have made Monticello's social life exciting.

Young Republicans

Providing man-power for the election of Ralph Tyler Smith, the Young Republicans spent many spare hours passing out bumper stickers, window cards, and literature. Members gained political insight into the peaceful transition of power, while working for the candidate.

In October, the Young Republicans sponsored an informal meeting with a local state representative who gave his viewpoints on present national and local problems. This helped promote local and national interest in politics and government through the club's members.

The Spanish and German Clubs had their origins in 1937, when the Foreign Language Club was organized for the purpose of presenting projects of special interest to language students. Its first presentation was a Christmas dinner and entertainment in which the dining room tables were decorated in keeping with the French, Spanish, German and English Christmas spirit.

After dinner, Christmas carols were sung and skits were performed showing Christmas traditions in other lands. In the spring the Club sponsored various meetings in which foreign movies were shown and guest lectures were given. There was no closed membership in the club's first year, but it was hoped to have membership limited to those whose language academic work was above average.

During the 1940's, foreign languages and the foreign language club were offered, although very few students participated in anything having to do with foreign language. It was not until 1955 that the Language Club subdivided into separate groups. At that time the French Club and the Spanish Club were created. Customs and cultures of the two countries were studied. In the 1960's, the German Club was organized. Each year the foreign language clubs hold a banquet, serving foods native to each country.

Drama Club

Through Drama classes Drama Club presents three plays including one musical. By being in these plays, the drama club members can earn points in order to become a member of Delta Psi Omega. Membership is open to anyone. Cindy Thorpe, president; Vera Trunk, vice-president; and Ruth Chickota, secretary; help make Drama Club successful.

Delta Psi Omega

Having earned credits by appearing in Drama Club plays, one can become a member of Delta Psi Omega, a national honorary drama fraternity. Membership of this organization is transferable to senior colleges which have this honor society on their campus. The officers of Delta Psi Omega are the same as those of Drama Club.

Tri-Key

Loyalty . . . friendship . . . service, all of which are the three key functions of the organization.

Through Tri-Key, Monticello girls serve as student hostesses for campus visitors. The members of this group gave tours of the campus and invited the visitors to spend the night in their room.

The Alumnae Council of Monticello College honored Tri-Key with their 1970 Alumnae Recognition Award on April 10, 1970. The plaque reads: "The Alumnae Council of Monticello College is honored to present to Tri-Key the 1970 Alumnae Recognition Award for their dedicated service to Monticello College. Members of Tri-Key serve as ambassadors of goodwill to all visitors to the campus, actively representing the finest ideals of Monticello in their friendliness and unselfish devotion."

The organization founded in 1959 as Booster Club, and later was changed to Tri-Key in 1960.

Monticello College remained strong in academic quality and quantity. Students who excelled scholastically were recognized by being initiated into Phi Theta Kappa, which is a local chapter of the National Honor Society.

The chapter on its own will work to promote scholarship on its college campus. In order to be eligible to become a member of Phi Theta Kappa, a student must have a 3.4 grade point, and pass a written examination.

Riding Club

Having an active interest in horsemanship, Riding Club members learn new skills and improve their talents. The girls are also schooled in the care and handling of the horses. Annually, Riding Club prepares a Horse Show for Dads Weekend, and awards are given to girls in various classes.

Choir Director G. Burton Harbison glances over the music before rehearsal starts.

Selling sandwiches, apples, cider, and even male teachers for a day, the Choir financed their spring tour of the Midwest. They performed at Evansville University, Marion, Indiana, Elgin, Illinois and other Midwest cities. Other concerts slated this year were their appearances with the Alton Symphony Orchestra before Christmas, the annual Candlelight Service at the Chapel, the service at First Presbyterian Church, the Variety Show February 13, and their concert at Hatheway Hall April 4.

Dance Club

Having both ballet and jazz courses in Monticello's physical education curriculum, there was a need for a Dance Club for those interested girls to participate. In Dance Club the members learn new dance steps and techniques that they would not have otherwise in their dance classes. Dance Club presented a Spring Dance Show with original dance routines made up by the girls themselves. Neila Peterson, president, Barb Burry, vice-president, Martha Randall, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Pars as their advisor, help coordinate the organization.

Monticello Service Organization

The Monticello Service Organization (MSO) was organized originally as the Monticello Christian Association (MCA). Their main activities centered around work with the orphans and Beverly Farms.

In 1966 MCA was changed to MSO to better describe the varied activities of the club. The purpose of the organization is to encourage fellowship and service among the students. This service is not only on campus, but within the greater Alton-Godfrey community.

MSO projects for the current year included tutoring of Alton area public school children, fund drives such as UNICEF, sponsoring of Doll Dinner, a Valentine party, and the operation of a dry cleaning service for students.

In the spring of each year MSO presents a service award to acknowledge outstanding service by a member of the organization. Miss Drayer serves as advisor to the group.

No —
I couldn't reach out
And take anything.
I can never be satisfied
Because there is always more
To be, to do, to attain.
Whatever I have done
I could have done better.
Whatever I have been,
I could be more.
Whatever I have attained
Is so much less than I should have attained.
With some I succeed,
But until I succeed with all,
Until I have given away all that I can give,
Until I have brought every student
To the point at which she knows all I know
And then is famished because she realizes
How little that is, in the vast realm of things to learn,
Until each of my students has surpassed me
And added something to the world,
Not until then am I a success.
So you see — I cannot take anything,
For nothing is mine to take.
But it is yours to give . . .
And you have . . .
And I thank you.

To Mary Schmidt, Echo Sponsor, who was always there with a good word, and came through in pinches with what we needed. To Bill Redfern, Jack Rhodes, Bill Starkey, Marion Ellicott, Susan Dean, Marianne Torrance, Graveman Studios, Vincent Price Studios, whose photos complete this book. To Mary Lu Albee, whose inspiration is spread through this book. To Heidi Hockridge, Jenna Johnston, Maryanne Pettigrew, Renee Potter, Brooke Sullivan, Cary Valentine, Mary Ward, Section Editors, for their determination to make this a success. To Amy Bauer, Kathryn Colbert, Susan Kernan, Laura Reid, Patti Simrell, Cindy Wilson, House Editors, for their cooperation and hard work. To Emily and Sally Conly for their beautiful art work. To all the unnameable helpers and friends who came to help, talk, or give ideas. Many, many thanks for making the last Monticello ECHO possible.

ALMA MATER

Tall trees . . .
Blue skies . . .
Quiet paths . . .
. . . Yet, above it all there rises
Shining and eternal,
Our Alma Mater.
Often in the quiet of the night,
She speaks.
Her voice echoes through the silence.
You have but to listen,
And you will hear
The words her heart
Whispers.

"I am the symbol of learning;
Within my ancient halls
Generations have come and gone.
My heart was made warm
With the laughter of youth.
I saw them all . . .
The gay, the serious, the sad.
I witnessed joy supreme,
And heartbreak untold.
I, too, have struggled.
I too, have fought
As I watched them pass by.

. . . Out of their lives
I received two years.
The Best years they gave me,
And I returned the best.
Returned it . . .
. . . Richer, fuller, better
Than it was given me.

In each person I saw
Vast potentialities.
In the deep pool of their eyes
I read the dreams
They thought lay deeply buried
In their hearts.
They were there, within those eyes,
And I was one to see them.

. . . Ah, that those dreams
Might never die.
Might never be cast aside,
When these are swept away
Down the raging torrent of life.
. . . A few will keep their dreams,
A very few.
. . . Keep them to ponder,
To sigh upon.
Keep them for memory's
Sake alone.
Fewer still will make
A dream come true.
And all their strife
Shall be for
This:
The rest will fail.
Cast all aside
To sigh repeatedly
"Such is life."

Tall trees . . .
Blue skies . . .
Quiet paths . . .
. . . Yet, above it all there rises
Shining and eternal,
Our Alma Mater.
